Jasmine is a persuasive and confident litigator who enjoys handling complex legal issues. As an innovative problem solver, she knows how to help clients achieve a satisfactory outcome.

Jasmine's practice covers a broad range of commercial and contractual litigation. Before joining Lax O'Sullivan, Jasmine was a litigation associate at a leading international law firm, where she handled multi-jurisdictional contract disputes, product liability claims, human rights, due diligence and construction claims. Her experience includes data privacy breach reporting, online defamation claims and complex commercial arbitration matters at both the domestic and international levels. She is a methodical legal researcher and can distill highly technical and scientific matters for a wide variety of audiences.

Jasmine graduated from University of Ottawa's Faculty of Common Law with the International Law option, where she was an avid mooter with several notable wins. She completed her undergraduate degree at Carleton University in International History and Mandarin Chinese. She volunteers in the areas of refugee sponsorship and mentorship to newcomers.
